

Other Fees – Australian Students

Most students will never pay additional fees. Additional fees are generally only applied when a student makes a request for a change to the agreed course or an additional resource/assessment after enrolment.

Part of the conditions of enrolment is that students must accept that other fees apply for access to staff assistance and assessment items if a student failed to attend the original piece of assessment without good reason.

Fees will be waived where it is evident the student is suffering some type of hardship.
